OUR TOBACCO FUND.
It is a matter of considerable gratification to the Mail to record the fact that its tobacco fund, which is now raising for the benefit of the boys in the trenches in France, has reached the Century Mark. This high spot was reached yesterday and it shows that Charleoi people are responding most heartily and generously for the comfort of the boys who are now in foreign service.
The United States is sending many men to France—more are scheduled to go, and all of them will want the comfort of a smoke. The Mail's fund is going to assist in providing that comfort and as a result we believe that practically all of the contributors will hear from the boys in France, who have been the recipient of a smoke-kit, which your money sent on its mission of mercy. We hope to see the fund reach much higher figures, for the demand for tobacco will be continuous. It will be for the day the week and the year, but with such a universal movement as in now under way we believe it will be possible to take care of the needs of the boys in this respect. Our citizens are to be congratulated and commended for the generous manner in which they have responded to this appeal.

THE LACK OF GOOD MANNERS
It has long been taken for granted that the best manners are found among the best people, but now that the supposedly "best people" are merely the wealthiest people, the time-honored supposition is open to question. Good manners find their most distinctive expression in courtesy, kindness, deference toward women, and deference toward merit. If these are more rare in "society" composed of the wealthiest people than elsewhere, then in New York, our richest city, we ought to find the best manners. And yet a far-travelled critic of manners has described New York—the New York of "society" as well as of the streets and public conveyances—as "the most insolent city in the world."
Some may suspect that this critic was a foreigner and prejudiced, and perhaps he was. But there are plenty of Americans of the older generation of the type we used to call gentlefolk, who insist that there has been a marked decline of manners, especially in our larger cities and among our wealthiest people who now control if they do not entirely compose the somewhat indefinitely bounded circles that in our cities are designated as "society." One of these native critics, lamenting in a magazine article "the unconscious insolence of the manners of the brazen youth of the day, their easy indifference to the courtesy of their elders and though they may not recognize the word, their better," goes on to say with much force and truth:
"From the days of Solomon, who rose from his throne to offer a seat to his mother to this day, the mark of a gentleman has been to recognize the presence of ladies by a deferential bearing. By this test there are many men today moving in what the irony of language terms our 'best society' who would be thrust out even among the heathen. It was a sad spectacle which I witnessed not long since in a railway car returning from a great football game at one of our noted universities. The car was crowded with a well-dressed well-looking company, evidently of the upper class—of both sexes and all ages. Many ladies both young and old were standing and many men appeared to be gentlemen were seated. Yet during the two hours I was in the car I saw only one gentleman offer his seat to a lady. I have termed them gentlemen, but I wonder if they could have been only 'gents.' The reflection recalls an anecdote of an old gentleman I used to know who once, going to Niagara Falls, found himself in a situation similar to that I have related, when presently a little Irishman with the dust of his quarries on him, rose and offering his seat to a lady said: "I always rise for the ladies. My mother was a lady." "Yes," said my old gentleman, "and her son is a gentleman."

HUNTING PARTY TO ELK COUNTY
A hunting party composed of C. J. Morgan, Tom P. Sloan, William M. Sloan, David E. Sloan, John Sloan, and Charles S. VanVleet, left Charleoi yesterday morning for Elk County, Pa., to hunt for deer. The party will occupy the lodge house of the Charleoi Mountain Club at Benetette, and that they may not suffer for any of the good things of life, they took with them two experienced chefs. In addition two musicians accompanied them, that the idle hours which may be spent in camp will not go without some entertaining features. The party will be reinforced on Sunday by W. H. Milliken, Ad. Spencer, D. R. Hormell, Roland Brown, R. S. Coyle, Guy Woodward and Faughn Madigan and possibly others, who will also make a trip by automobile. The party which left this morning expected to go by way of Greensburg, Latrobe, Pottsville, Pottsville, Pottsville and Dubois, expecting to reach their destination at Benetette about three o'clock this afternoon.

BENTLEYVILLE WOMEN ORGANIZE
A Local Division of the Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense was formed at Bentleyville Thursday afternoon by the election of the following officers:—Chairman, Mrs. Wilbur Huffman; vice chairman, Miss Ruth Hetherington; secretary and treasurer, Miss Bess Johnson. There were a goodly number of ladies present and took part in the meeting. During the afternoon addresses were made by Miss Weyer, of the Woman's Library Loan Committee and by Miss Mary McCane, vice chairman of the finance committee.

GREAT PROGRAM AT THE AUTUMN CLASSIC
Uniontown, Pa., October 13—There'll be something doing all day at the Uniontown Speedway on Saturday when the Autumn classic, the final automobile racing event of the season, will be staged. The Speedway gates will be thrown open to visitors at 7 o'clock the morning of the races following two hours later by a band concert. DeLloyd Thompson, master aviator of the world, is scheduled to arrive at the Speedway at 9:30 from his overland flight from Schenley Oval, Pittsburgh. Thompson flies over the city of Pittsburgh Friday, dropping 2,000 tickets of admission to the races and early Saturday morning will fly from Schenley oval to Uniontown, following the course of the Monongahela river to Brownsville and thence above the pike to Uniontown.
The initial flight of Miss Katherine Stinson, premier aviatrice of the world, will be made at 10 o'clock in the morning and at 11:30 Miss Stinson and DeLloyd Thompson will make a duel flight, executing aerial maneuvers so common now above the battlefields of Europe.
The introduction of the starters by the big professional race at noon and half an hour later the word to start will be given. DeLloyd Thompson will make his farewell flight at 2:45 o'clock. At 3 o'clock, the professional consolidation race will begin to be followed at 3:45 by Katherine Stinson's demonstration of evasive aerial maneuvers.
CLYDE COAL TO REBUILD ICE BREAKERS
The Clyde Coal company, which owns mines near Fredericktown, has given a contract for the reconstruction of its three crib ice breakers to the Pihl & Miller Engineering company. The price is said to be about $5,000. The Clyde company is also rebuilding 53 out of its 61 barges at its Glenwood boat yard, the work being in charge of Capt. Alex Slack.

Nine sons of Cabinet officers are to fight and it is not arranged for them to remain skin-whole either, as in the case of the Kaiser's sons. Secretary Daniels' son, for example, is a private in the marine corps and all the others are listed to see danger in either the navy, the artillery or the aviation corps.
More heat and gasoline and other necessities may eliminate much of the food and restaurant waste, but nothing seems to be doing to stop advancing prices.
New York will be named if the New York Herald Tribune publishes are allowed to defeat Mayor Mitchell who has done so much to promote the interests of the nation in this war.
Whether it be $3 wheat or 30 cents a ton, the farmers want all they can get and are going to get all they can. William Monahan left Charleoi this morning for Camp Hancock, Ga., where he will fight in the 110th regiment.
CONDITION WAS NOT ALARMING
John O. Watson, President of the Board of County Commissioners, and Chairman of the exemption board of the Fifth District, has been quite ill at his home in North Charleoi since Monday night last. At that time Mr. Watson was attacked with acute indigestion and for a time was a very sick man, but this morning he is reported progressing favorably toward recovery. A Pittsburgh paper published a rather alarming telegram Friday morning, dated Washington, saying that Mr. Watson's condition was quite serious and that his life was despaired of. This was a rather overdrawn statement and was the cause of many telephone messages being sent to the Watson home to inquire after the condition of the patient. Unless there should be some unexpected complications, Mr. Watson's physicians expect him to be around again within a few days.

Red Blooded People Live The Longest
Red blooded people retain their youth and vigor until late in life because red blood ages slowly.
A child with impure blood seems old, while an old man with pure red ironized blood seems young.
Impure blood clogs the system with waste matters, rapidly aging body, mind and spirit.
Pure blood is red blood, rich in iron and phosphates with power to rid itself of waste matters and able to carry life giving oxygen to every cell and nerve. It makes both young and old, bright, happy, keen and interested in life. This is the blood you need, every day of your life, the rich red blood made by pure food, fresh air, restful sleep and "Phosphated Iron" the red blood and nerve builder.
Phosphated Iron enriches your blood and nerves putting them in shape for work. Improves your color, increases your appetite and gives you strength, vigor and power to enjoy both work and pleasure, makes you feel like doing things once more.
Phosphate Iron is prescribed by leading doctors for all who are worn out, run down, nervous, weak and thin blooded people in all walks of life. They have learned to depend on it for honest results.
Special Notice—To insure physicians and their patients receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron, we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to substitute pill or tablets, insist on the genuine in capsules only. W. F. Hennings, the druggist and leading druggists everywhere.

BOND FATE MAY REST IN FARMER HANDS
Slow Sales in The Cities May Make It Necessary to Call Him to The Rescue
Cleveland, O., Special.—The farmer came to the rescue in the food crisis last spring. He will have to come to the rescue again, quickly and substantially, if the Second Liberty Loan is to have the big over-subscription that had been hoped for it. So far in every district the city subscriptions have been coming slower than had been expected. Whether the late crash, that always features a sale like this, will be sufficiently strong to make up for the early tardiness remains to be seen.
In the first bond drive the farmer failed signally in meeting expectations. There were two chief reasons for this. He wasn't at all sure then how his crops would turn out, for the weather conditions were unpromising and he was short handed. Then he wasn't solicited as were his brothers in the city. Where he subscribed to the bond issue it was from a feeling of patriotism purely and simply. He hunted up his banker and placed his order and went back to the fields.
This time it will be different. Throughout the Fourth Federal Reserve district every county has its organization, planning to make a farm to farm canvass upon just as extensive and careful a scale as is being done in the cities. No farmer may offer as an excuse that he was not approached. And in no district in all the country is the farmer in better financial condition to respond. Crops have not been better in years. Prices have not been so high since the civil war.
Ohio farmers will be called upon to bear the greater portion of the burden for the craft. The Pennsylvania and West Virginia counties in the district are not particularly strong in agricultural wealth. Their richness lies in other lines—coal, oil, lumber and manufacturing. The Kentucky territory, for the main part, is but lightly populated yet the farmers in that section have done better this year than in the last two decades. And early reports indicate that they are responding well to Uncle Sam's call.
Here are some of the reasons why the Ohio farmer should subscribe liberally, and in considering them one should not overlook the fact that this is an exceptional year, crops and prices are at the top mark, and the figures offered are those of seven years ago.
Ohio in 1910 had 24,105,708 acres of farm land, of which 19,227,969 acres were under cultivation; total value $1,902,694,689. This is approximately one-twentieth of the entire farm value of the United States. Operating these farms were 272,045 farmers, of whom 192,104 were actual owners, the rest being either managers or tenant-farmers. The average value of farm lands then was $53.34 an acre.
Complete figures upon the value of farm products are not obtainable, but those applying to the chief farm products are interesting. Ohio produced in 1909, 157,312,000 bushels of corn, worth $33,327,269, at an average price of 55 cents a bushel. Today the price is around $2 a bushel. The potato production totaled 20,332,984 bushels, worth $9,377,755, at an average price of 55 cents a bushel. Potatoes this fall will bring close to $2 a bushel. Oats brought the farmer $23,212,352 for a production of 57,501,046 bushels, at 41 cents a bushel. Present price 87 cents. Wheat represented $31,112,975 for 30,663,704 bushels, at 96 cents a bushel. This year it will bring at least $2.20 a bushel.
In addition to these items Ohio looms large in the raising of livestock and poultry. With a livestock valuation of $197,332,112, in 1909, Ohio was surpassed only by Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas and Texas. And with poultry products valued at approximately $29,000,000, Ohio gave place only to Iowa, Illinois and Missouri.
Farm production this year will surpass in 11 of these lines, save perhaps livestock, the figures of seven years ago. And in valuation there is really no comparison. In most cases prices have more than doubled.
The answer to this is that the farmer is better off financially today than he has been in years; he's better able to buy a Liberty Bond and aid Uncle Sam in putting an early end to this war. And he will be asked to do it. He will have no alibi if he fails to respond.

BISHOP FARRELLY ON LIBERTY BONDS
Bishop Farrelly of the Cleveland diocese made the following statement when interviewed regarding the Second Liberty Loan of 1917:
"This bond issue campaign resolves itself largely into a question of self-defense."
"The very reason we are in the war is the reason why we should purchase the Liberty Bonds, that is, for self-defense and the principle of democracy. Surely every citizen can help in the name of this cause."
"Members of the Catholic Church should be foremost in giving their help at this time, as none are in a better position to appreciate the privileges of the United States government. The enthusiastic rally to the flag, following the first call for volunteers, should be enough to incite us and to make us realize that we should be doing something to meet the war needs of our country. Realizing what should be done, we should act now and buy the bonds."
"After all it is a matter of conscience. Every man should know in his mind whether he has done as much for Liberty as he can afford. If we all do this, the loan will be a big success, and this I most sincerely hope for."

GETS JOB AS A FARM FOREMAN AT AGE OF 77
Says He Can Do the Work of a Man of Forty Now
What would be the average man's chances of holding a job as foreman of a large farm in his 77th year on the strength of being able to do the work of a man of forty?
Highly slim chances, the big majority of humanity would say.
But not with David Wogan, farm foreman on the East View Farms, near Altoona, Pa.
"Life the tens of thousands of others I thought I would have to leave the hard work to the younger generation when I realized the allotted three-score and ten," said Mr. Wogan. "However the past few years I have been troubled considerably by a stomach and kidney troubles, and I was beginning to think I would have to give way to the younger men. However, I left no stone unturned in my effort to regain my health, so when I heard about Tanlac I immediately obtained a bottle.
"Well, after taking this remarkable remedy, I feel like a youngster despite my 77 years. No longer do I suffer from indigestion after eating, and I sleep just fine. My constipation, which has troubled me for years, is a thing of the past and I no longer have to worry from that source. Those stomach pains which used to catch me while at work no longer bother me. I can do a full day's work without feeling worn out and tired as formerly."
Tanlac, the famous Master Medicine, is now sold here by Pipers Pharmacy.

TAKE CONTRACT TO COMPLETE REPAIRS
A contract was let this week for the completion of the repairs to the steamer Aliquippa of the Vesta Coal company fleet, which is now on the marine ways at Elizabeth. The John L. Mullin Contracting company of Pittsburgh will do the work. The Aliquippa, as is well known, is an all-steel boat, both hull and upper works being constructed of iron with concrete cabin floors. The boat was wrecked last summer in the Ohio river by striking the pier at Lock No. 2. The steel hull was badly broken and twisted and the process of straightening the hull and replacing the broken plates has been a tremendous task. The first parties to attempt it gave it up, because of their inability to get men on the work who would stay sober, hence the repairs on the steamer have been greatly delayed. The new contractors began work last Monday and it is expected the boat will be off the ways within a comparatively short time.

THIEVES HAVE BAD RECORDS

The three pickpockets arrested in Monongahela on Saturday last have lengthy criminal records. One of them, William L. Gannon, alias William L. Bailey, had been arrested fourteen times before being picked up in Monongahela. His operations were principally in the vicinity of Cleveland. John E. Murphy, alias John Anderson, has a record of eight arrests prior to Saturday. His field of activity was in Canton, Ohio. The third man, Edward Moore, alias Al Miller, did not have so long a record as the others, but he is well known to the Pittsburgh police. These men have been operating in the valley for some time and were undoubtedly part of a gang that has been infesting the street cars on the Pittsburgh and Charleroi line. The men are now in the Washington jail and street car officials, as well as county authorities will assist in their prosecution.

Doctors Having Great Success with Amolox.

This remarkable letter, coming from a prominent physician engaged in active practice for over 25 years, proves the merit of this wonderful new Remedy.

Very truly yours,

BUILDS NEW HOME IN MONONGAHELA

B. B. Hunter, cashier of the First National Bank of Webster, has given a contract to the Marston-Gass-Lumber company of Donora for the erection of a magnificent new residence in Monongahela. The proposed residence, which will be located at the corner of Meade and Lincoln streets, will be a complete and modern home, containing about twelve rooms and provided with all modern conveniences. It is said the contract price for the house, which will be constructed of brick, will be about $20,000. Work on the foundation is already under way.

GIVES UP POSITION AT PAGE WIRE WORKS

Quite a number of changes have taken place in the official staff of the Page Wire Works at Monessen, following the transfer of General Manager Sattley to Pittsburgh. The latest employee to give up his position at that plant is George S. Brown, who has been the superintendent of the open hearth plant for the past seventeen years. He will take up the development of the Duquesne Adams hydraulic valve, a mechanical invention which is said to be one of the best on the market, and which he has been laboring to perfect for a number of years.

COLORED MEN GO NEXT WEEK

The local exemption board is in receipt of advice from Harrisburg that the colored men from the status district, who have been drafted for service in the National Army, would be mobilized the week of October 27th. No definite day of the week was fixed by the Harrisburg authorities, but it is likely the local board will receive more specific instructions within a few days.

The board has not appointed a mobilization point for the colored men, but it is likely it will be Monongahela. A committee of the leading colored residents of that city, headed by Capt. Wm. Griffin, a member of the civil war, is in charge of the arrangements and they have asked the board to assemble the men at that point in order that they may be given a suitable demonstration. The board will likely grant the request, as no other town has intimated that it would offer any celebration.

The board is in receipt of no advice as to when the balance of the white men of the district will be sent to Camp Sherman. It has been intimated that it will likely be the first week in November, but in the absence of official information the board is making no further arrangements to mobilize the men. It is likely the department is waiting to get the colored men of the state mobilized and on the way to camp before calling for the final quotas.

"THE LADIES' STORE"

Can Eat Onions, Pie, Cabbage and Cake. She Says

But 'Twas Vastly Different
With Mrs. Keener Before
Nerv-Worth Came

Only those persons who have gone through the happy experience recorded in the following statement, can fully realize the deep pleasures of the table. One must have suffered severely from indigestion and then found a way to eat without distress if he wants to know what the enjoyment of meals really means Mrs. Parthena Keener, of Montana Mines near Farmington, W. Va., found such enjoyment by the use of Nerv-Worth as the following letter, which she wrote some time ago to her Farmington druggist, fully proves:

"I have taken three bottles of Nerv-Worth and it has helped me wonderfully. I was so nervous that I could not stand the noise of children playing. I now can eat onions, cabbage, cake and pie. I can now sleep nine hours.

Safety First!!

By Edith Barnard Delano of the Vigilantes.

Safety first? Of course! You insure your home, don't you? Don't consider your fire-insurance a bad investment, do you? Of course, it doesn't bring you in any interest—oh, does it? Safety is interest enough, you say? Do you happen to know that a Liberty Bond is just the biggest insurance policy ever taken out, insurance against worse things than fire and lightning or accident and death? Do you know that it not only insures the safety of you and your house and your business, of your children and your children's children, but that it does bring you in actual interest, not only in safety but in dollars and cents besides?

Safety first? Of course! You have to work hard for your money, don't you? Living is high, and the children are going to have a better start in life than you had, if you can give it to them? Takes money, and you aren't going to risk the money you've worked for in any unsafe investment, are you? Things often look all right; but you never know when they're not; you believe in playing safe, yourself, don't you? Any sensible man does; and the Liberty Bonds are the safest investment in the country, the safest in the world; because this is the biggest and richest country in the world, and the entire country would have to go actually bankrupt before the Liberty Bonds would be no good—and they probably would be good, even then! See any signs of the country's going bankrupt? Banks might, businesses might—but the entire country? Safety first? Sure! So put your money into Liberty Bonds and smile at trouble coming—if you see any!

Safety first? Of course!

"Droop" of Modern Guns.

So long in front of the trunnions is the modern gun of 12-inch caliber or more that the bending is said to be perceptible to the eye. This "droop," as it is called, is due to the elasticity of the metal or imperfections of manufacture or design, and in some cases has been found to exceed half an inch.

It Carries Its Own Evidence.

A religion which takes possession of the convictions of mankind carries with it its own evidence, in its conformity with universal spiritual experience; and the truth of it, lying within the four corners of the conception, is above and beyond the power of historical criticism.—Froude.

Remember Your Soul.

Never, admonishes Marcus Aurelius, must you forget that you have a soul; never must you miss a single hour in which it might render the slightest services to humanity.

Guiding Fingers.

A machine has been perfected which will copy to the smallest detail in a piece of stone fastened under its cutting tools a statue carried under guiding fingers.

Editors' Exercise.

Its Got z-z-zip!

LIKE a shot-out-of-a-gun, Atlantic Gasoline sends you breezing along the straightaways or thundering up the steepest grades with that calm confidence of a Hercules, conscious of his terrible might, atremble with super-strength.

Here's the go-gettem gas if ever there was one. It's got zip and zing and eat-'em-up in its veins. Like a Dan Patch tugging at the traces, your Atlantic-fed motor itches for the getaway, and when you step on the pedal—Say! It's good that cars are provided with brakes!

Uncle Sam says the way to test gasoline is by its "boiling point." Atlantic has steadfastly maintained its uniform boiling point in the face of changing market conditions. This assures every gallon of gas to be exactly like the last, sparing you the bother of monkeying with the carburetor every so often.

Take figures from your gasoline-bill and put them on your speedometer where they belong. Use Atlantic Gasoline regularly. It's got z-z-zip!

ATLANTIC GASOLINE

Puts Pep in Your Motor

"You've Got the Goods, Atlantic."

"Today the specific gravity test is practically worthless as a check on the quality of a gasoline. For example, for a given motor equipment, a gasoline of 70° Baumé is just as good as a gasoline of 72° Baumé. The only way to tell the difference is by the percentage of distillation over below a certain temperature, coupled perhaps with a proviso that certain percentages shall distill over below other fixed temperatures. In order that the quality of low-boiling constituents shall be present so as to insure early starting of an engine."

"Revised the specification must contain a proviso that all must distill over below a certain maximum temperature, in order to exclude from the gasoline the heavier petroleum distillates, such as kerosene."

Official Press-Statement by U. S. Govt. Bureau of Standards.
We've been preaching and practicing the same thing for years. The boiling-point of Atlantic Gasoline is always uniform. It meets Uncle Sam's ideas perfectly.
